As a prospective local councillor, I am aware that you may not be all that ~~interested~~ interested in our national manifesto. However, I believe the ideas and the idealism contained therein are essential if we are going to deliver local services, properly funded and well thought-out.

As a councillor - especially as a Socialist councillor - I would see it as my duty to ensure that local services were supplied for local people. When it comes to ESSENTIAL services, I believe it is time that those who represent the people start to ask some serious questions in the council chamber. For example:

Should ~~we~~ we spend money on Inverness Cathedral or Thistle or should we spend it on health, education transport etc.

Why waste money on entertaining well-heeled visiting dignitaries?

Why deprive our young people of a future?

Yours sincerely
